

Prof. P.Kanagasabapathi

Dr.P.Kanagasabapathi is a Professor, author and writer involved in India-centric research from the native perspectives. Known for his pioneering field studies in different economic centres across the country, he was a key member of the team that undertook the study of the Gujarat kite business on the invitation of the state Govt. during 2003-04. After obtaining his doctorate as a UGC Research Fellow, he was initially associated with the stock markets for a brief period.

He writes in English and Tamil. One of his books entitled Indian Models of Economy, Business and Management is considered a major initiative towards indianising the education system and used in the premier educational institutions. One of his other books, Prosperous India, has been translated into different Indian languages. He has also written for CBSE, New Delhi.

He has been associated with different universities and research bodies at the national and the state levels and was a member and Chairman in charge of the of the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi. Earlier he was the Director of the state level training and research institute promoted by the Tamil Nadu Govt. and the President of an agricultural cooperative bank.

He has been part of committees of the central and state Governments and was an independent Director of the Shipping Corporation of India, Mumbai. He is the Director of the Tamil Nadu based Indian Economic and Cultural Centre.